DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings were received on 10 October 2004. These drawings are approved.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 1-19 are allowed.
3. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

The art of record either alone or in combination fails to particularly disclose or suggest the particular insertion and subsequent processing of an extended text table wherein an “event_id” is inserted into a “table_id_extension” ETT sections.

With respect to claim interpretation, the particular terms “event_id”, “table_id_extension”, and ETT were given their art recognized meaning with respect to the ATSC standard in view of the instant application. The “Program and System Information Protocol for Terrestrial Broadcast and Cable A/65” (hereafter, the PSIP document), sets forth the usage of the “event_id” (Section 6.5 – Event Information Table (EIT)), as specifying the identification number of the event described. As set forth in applicant’s related art and the PSIP document, the “event_id” is utilized in the “ETM_id” field of the ETT table (Section 6.6 – Extended Text Table). The standard requires that the “table_id_extension” field is set to 0x00. Accordingly, there is no suggestion or teaching to modify the standard so as to particularly insert the “event_id” into the “table_id_extension” of the ETT. Rather, the standard explicitly teaches away from doing so.

The Tsurumoto reference appears to be directed towards the same problem of applicant's, however, it similarly teaches away from the claimed invention. In particular, while the reference utilizes a separate "event_id" within the ETT, it discloses that the "table_id_extension" field is populated with a value such as a channel number. Accordingly, there is no teaching or suggestion so as to modify the reference so as to utilize the "table_id_extension" field for population with the "event_id" without engaging in impermissible hindsight.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
